"Just Forty Years Ago"

June 24, 1882 will ever be a memorable date with the editor of the Clay City Times. It was the date of the first school exhibition known to us, who then was a child of nine years, together with a large number of other urchins of about the same. Miss Custus Deshong was the teacher at Spout Spring, four miles from Clay City.

Miss Custus came from Montgomery county at Camargo, and is now living there together with her husband, John D. Stephens. She secured a spring subscription school of probably forty pupils and she well and truly taught them all as efficiently as that number is taught in any school today. She taught the fall school of probably an enrollment of eighty pupils, and they were just as well taught as were the pupils of the spring school.

When this splendid teacher first entered the school room she began teaching the school as a whole in concert. The children were taught good manners, they were taught morals and they were particularly taught to observe what they were taught in their books as well as orally, which method was a favorite manner of impressing the studies on the young minds with this excellent teacher of "Just Forty Years Ago."

Miss Custus was the first to introduce the calisthenic into our schools as a means of the proper physical development of the body. These exercises are being reintroduced of later years into our advanced schools.

While the schools attended by the writer the four years preceding '82 were taught by splendid teachers, and in succeeding years attended the schools of such most excellent teachers as Judge Hugh Riddell, M. G. Whiteman, Miss Eva Mastin and Prof. F. P. Tracy who is still in the harness, the school of '82 with its happy climax just blossoming in our minds at the early age of nine years, was the most impressing upon the writer.

The stimulus for the writing of this article is the fact that this old-time school exhibition, a successful event, occurred forty years ago on June 24, Saturday. June 24 this year is also Saturday. The forty years ago is impressive on account of the song "Just Forty Years Ago" sang eight years later in another successful school exhibition given at the close of a spring subscription school taught at Spout Spring by the now venerable Prof. F. P. Tracy.

Threatening Drouth

The frequent rising clouds passing over with but little rain the last of the week is succeeded by dryer weather. To this date no injury has accrued from dry weather, but in a few days conditions will change if no rain falls. The wet weather has stimulated shallow rooting of corn which will be damaged much worse than had it been dry all along. Should much dry weather come the late corn will do better than the early.

Circuit Court

Circuit Court convened at Stanton Monday with Judge Gardner, of Magoffin county, presiding as special Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney W. J. Baxter and County Attorney A. T. Stewart, prosecuting. A large crowd attended the first day of court and many of them enjoyed a splendid dinner served by the good ladies of the Stanton Christian church. Attorneys A. H. Stamper, Leburn Allen and C. Lydon, of Campton; Judge Benton and C. F. Spencer, of Winchester; B. F. Day, Mt. Sterling, were visitors. Many cases have been disposed of.

Elect Two Teachers

At the meeting of the Town Board Saturday night teachers were elected for first assistant and second assistant's positions. They were Miss Ethel Congleton of Frankfort, and Miss Georgia Howell, of this city, respectively. Both were elected unanimously and have the reputation of being first-class teachers. The positions of principal and primary teacher were left open to be filled at the next regular meeting night, July 1st.

The tax levy for 1922 was set at 50 cents on the one hundred dollars for general purposes and 75 cents for school purposes.

Garage to Change Hands

The Clay City Garage has been sold by the Burghers to Wm. Bashaw, of this city. Mr. Bashaw will take possession immediately and personally superintend the business. Mr. Bashaw is a splendid business man and fine citizen. He will render the public complete service in the garage accommodations. He goes into the business whole heartedly which means success. Be sure and stop his way when you drive into Clay City.

Road Work

Considerable crowning and shaping of the road from Clay City to Stanton has recently gone on. The grader was broken several days ago, which caused a temporary close down. The Times is glad to see this work going on and sincerely hopes to see as fine road between the two towns as there is between Clay City and Winchester.

Mr. Bloom Takes Treatment

James Bloom went to Louisville last Friday to consult a specialist and take the great radium treatment. Mr. Bloom is suffering from a bad throat trouble and it is doubtful if this latest and most wonderful discovery will be able to cure him. At last report he was some better, however.

Woodward Fined and Jailed

Frank Woodward was tried in Circuit Court Monday for shooting at James Proffitt and family in their automobile last summer. He was given a fine of $200 and six months in jail.

Looking Our Way

In speaking of the Clark county roads, the Winchester Sun has the following to say of the road in that county coming down this way:

The Iron Works pike leading from this city to Powell county, is one of the most badly needed roads in this county. The Powell county road from the Clark county line to Stanton is of the highest type gravel. Clark county has a few miles of macadam road leading from Indian Fields, road to the Powell county line that has been permitted to get in bad repair and is now being repaired but when this roadway is completed it will mean much to Winchester and Clark county as well as to Central Kentucky which gives a direct outlet to Eastern Kentucky.

That June Tide

June 26, 1882 saw the biggest tide ever known in Red river. Wheat was cut and in the shock and thousands of them went down the river. The tide was on Winchester court day and those from this county attending on that date was marooned from home. Every resident of this county has seen or heard of the big June tide, though few remember the day of the month or the year. All corn in the path of the flood was uprooted and great destruction otherwise was wrought.

Will Teach in Mercer

Miss Della C. Portwood has been chosen principal of the Brighton Graded school in Mercer county. Miss Portwood is certainly well qualified for the position and her numerous friends and admirers of Clay City and Powell county heartily commend this splendid young lady and teacher to the good people of her school district. Miss Della has a splendid record in her attendance at the Eastern Normal at Richmond.

The bearing-down pains were actually so severe I could not stand the pressure of my hands on the lower part of my stomach . . . I simply felt as if life was for but a short time. My husband was worried . . . One evening, while reading the Birthday Almanac, he came across a case similar to mine, and went straight for some Cardui for me to try.

File Your Claim Now

Are you as well today as you were before you entered the service?

You probably are. But perhaps you are not. You may be suffering from an ailment which started while you were in uniform which has not given you much concern, but which, nevertheless, causes you to feel at times that it may grow worse. The chances are you never have filed a claim for compensation if you are in this class. Your pride may have restrained you, or you may have believed it would be an imposition upon the Government for an apparently able-bodied man like you to go before the medical examiners.

If you reasoned thus, your feelings are praiseworthy, of course. But they may, nevertheless, be injudicious. There are some things you ought to do for your own protection. By ignoring any present ailment, due to your service, you may forego the chance later to present a claim for compensation if it should become a real disability. It is important that you have your present ailment, no matter how slight, made a matter of official record.

Every man with a wartime disability, however trivial, who has not filed a claim for compensation should do so before August 9, 1922. This is the time limit specified for the filing of claims under the Sweet Act passed last Autumn. The section of the act containing the provision is as follows:

Section 306: "No compensation shall be payable for death or disability which does not occur prior to or within one year after discharge or resignation from the service, except that where, after a medical examination made pursuant to regulations, a certificate has been obtained from the director at the time of discharge or resignation from the service, or within one year thereafter, or within one year after the passage of this amendatory act, whichever is the later, to the effect that the injured person at the time of his discharge or resignation was suffering from injury likely to result in death or disability, compensation for death or disability shall be payable whenever occurring, proximately resulting from such injury."

It is obvious, from the above, that it is advisable to file a claim now regardless of whether the man with a disability believes it sufficient to entitle him to compensation at this time. Compensation is only awarded where the disability is found to be at least 10 per cent. If the medical examination and the facts in the case reveal that a man is suffering from a disability due to service of less than 10 per cent, the applicant will be provided with the certificate of disability which will serve as the basis of any claim he may wish to present later if his disability increases.

It should be remembered, of course, that it will be necessary to prove that the disability is of service origin or was aggravated by service. If the applicant's army service record in the office of the Adjutant General at Washington does not furnish the facts to substantiate the claim—if there are no records of the applicant having been treated in army hospitals, for instance—he may be required to supply additional proof to establish the existence of a continuous and material disability from date of discharge, or from a date sufficiently close to the day of discharge to the date of application.

If any ex-service man in Powell county wishes to file a claim for compensation for disability received in service, write to Carl Welch, Rosslyn, Ky., and he will send application blanks, etc.

Do you sling a slouchy leg?

THERE ARE LOTS of folks who wear their socks wrinkled and unhappy looking, simply because they haven't yet found a comfortable garter that holds up socks perfectly without binding.

We'd Like to have all these folks try Ivory Garters. It'll be a revelation in comfort and convenience! Ivory Garters are different! They do not have any pads or metal clasps. The band that goes around your leg is all light, lively elastic. It "gives" freely with every movement of the muscles. It does not bind.

Try a Pair

Teachers' Scandal

Some of the young bloods over at the Eastern State Normal have been trafficking in examination questions, bringing disgrace to themselves and the school body. It is better to learn to be honest in all dealings than to be learned and skilled in trickery and subterfuge.

Army Goods Sale

Dealers in army goods from Lexington were in Clay City Saturday, Court day, and sold a large quantity of army goods of every description at very satisfactory prices. The town receives a license fee of $15.00 for each sale of this kind. At least we can say that the army goods fellows are more of a benefit than the dry goods fellows with us heretofore. Col. Ray Rowland was the auctioneer.

From coast to coast Tanlac is known and honored and millions have taken it and pronounced it the greatest medicine of all times. C. Shimmfessel.

Sam T. Carr and Chas. Burton are in Bourbon county this week cutting and baling a large acreage of hay. The crop is fine and conditions for curing excellent.

Nobody loves a trade combination to boost prices (they call it "stabilizing" prices) the only service of which is the service of making big profits for those in control.

How 'Home, Sweet Home' Was Written
John Howard Payne, the author of "Home, Sweet Home," was an American minstrel who wandered all over the earth, practically. After the death of his parents, when he was twelve years old, he never had a real home, and at the time of writing the song he was stranded in Paris, a foreign land, away from all the friends he held dear. He wrote the song on a dreary day in October, 1822.
